

The Life Cycle of “The Wave”

As buying pressure moves the currency pair directionally higher, the Green Line and the Red Line run parallel – Separate, Strong, Stable.

As buying pressure subside and selling pressure increases, the tow lined begin to converge

As buying pressure and the selling pressure become more equal, the two lines finally touch.

As the buying pressure erodes further, The Green Line crosses down through the Red Line.

As selling pressure begins to increase dramatically, the Red Line starts to arc over above the Green Line.

The Red Line now pushes down on the Green Line as a rollercoaster that crest a hill.

As selling pressure moves the currency pair directional lower, the Red Line and the Green Line run parallel – Separate, Strong, Stable.

As the selling pressure and the buying pressure increases, the two lines begin to converge.

As the selling pressure and the buying pressure become more equal, the tow lines finally touch.

As the selling pressure erodes further, the Red Line Crosses down through the Green Line.

As the buying pressure begins to increase dramatically, the Green Line starts to arch up above the Red Line.

As the currency pair moves directionally higher, the two lines again run parallel -- Separate, Strong, Stable.
